Our readers will be interested in Santa Anna's letter from Mr. Hudson, a Representative from Mas-movements. He was at Cedral when he heard of the sachusetts, to Mr. Gentry, of Tennessee, in relation wrote thence on the 3d March, avowing h s opposition to the attempt, and then pushed on to Matchuala. He wrote thence on the 6th ult., to the Secretary of War, peal of the British corn laws, has had anything to do announcing that he would march on the capital with with the increase of the demand for grain and meat, a large division of his force, and put down the revo- and that of their price. retary of War, announcing that two brigades of in-fantry, composed of 1000 men, with their correspond-ing batteries, were on their march to San Luis, and they were to be followed by two others of all arms, to the aid of the supreme powers of the nation traitorously attacked. This letter would lead one to suppose conclusively that he intended to put down the attempt against Gomez Farias's administration. He ounces in unqualified terms the attempt at a revo-

But the day after, March 10th, he wrote two other letters to Mexico—one to Gen. Barragan, the head of the revolutionary party, the other to Gomez Farias. In these his tone is altered. He denounces civil dissentions, but is considerate in seeking terms of courtesy towards Barrangan and Farias. He conjures them to desist from further hostilities in the capital, and announces his purpose of proceeding thither immediately. He tells Barragan not to tear for himself or others compromised by the revolutionary attempt; that he has but one desire, to unite all Mexicans, &c. &c. The letter to Gomez Farias is of such political importance that we make a hasty translation of it:

Sec. 3. And be if traffic the determinat San Luis to meet and propitiate him. The report San Luis to meet and propitiate him. The report of our export start is by Mr. Kendall that he was in the capital by and general scarcity throughout Europe this year. sent us by Mr. Kendall that he was in the capital by create a peculiar demand for breadstuffs, so that it is war Department, and placed under the juri-diction and con-

encountered at Buena Vista, and the abrupt and ignominious conclusion of those bright hopes and splendid plans with which he has for some time amused the imaginations of the Mexican rabble, naturally suggest the inquiry-What will become of him? What effect will these disasters have on his personal and political fortunes! Will he share the fate of his own immediate predecessors in this war-Arista and Ampudia—and retire before the popular indignation to some one of his elegant haciendas? Will he demand a court of inquiry into his conduct, and endeavor, by false and exaggerated statements, to save his military reputation, or will be employ his influence, and hazard his power and popularity, by boldly recommending a peace, and proposing to open negotiations with the United States! Will he not say to the government, "I have done all I can do, but in vain. The resources of the country are not equal to its defence against the power of the United States. We have sufficiently manifested our valor and our patriotism-we have satisfied the point of honor-now let us open negotiations and make the best peace we can." That such would be the language of Santa Anna, if his conduct were controlled by his own good sense and his own interests and inclination, there can be no doubt. But in Mexico, as in our own Republic, the great motive of political action will be found in the answer to the inquiry, "what will Mrs. Grundy say !" The levis turba of Mexico is the fickelist of all mobs. What will be their judgment upon the defeat of Buena Vista, and in what temper for negotiations with this country Santa Anna's ignominious return to the capital will find them, we will not dare to predict or imagine.

One thing, however, is certain, that the prestige of Santa Anna's name has greatly weakened under the heavy fire of our artillery and rifles at Buena Vista. The military power of the nation has been utterly destroyed by this disastrous fight. The words "tri-"trophies," and "invincible bravery," with which Santa Anna mocks their mirery and misfortune, cannot blind them to the sad proofs of defeat and disaster which lie around them. Panic has seized their minds. Already, but two days after the battle, had Col. Belknap, with a small force of our troops, tracked their precipitate retreat forty miles from the scene of the battle. They will never rally again. The finest army they ever raised has been defeated by the smallest force we have sent into battle since our army passed the Rio Grande. The great trouble to which Santa Anna was subjected in raising, equip-ping, and supporting the army which has just been routed, will be mere child's play compared with the difficulty of again collecting, in efficient force, the roken and dispirited fragments of this once proud array. But with the fall of Santa Anna's army, and on the hypothesis that the Mexican government and difficulties of this invasion. The Mexican soldiers can be easily beaten, but the people can never be conquered, nor can the country be subdued and permenently occupied without the consent of the people. To avoid these serious difficulties, we see no other easible mode proposed but that which would satisfy their pride, by a formal purchase of such portions of their territory as our government may consider a fair satisfaction for the heavy sacrifices which this war has demanded of the nation .- N. O. Delta.

A rather laughable affair occurred a few days ago, in one of the Boston hotels, showing the peculiar regard which some men have to rank or title in office. veral members of the House of Representatives were seated at a dinner table, (feeling rather dignified we suppose) when one of them said: 'Will the gentleman from Andover please pass the butter this way?' Pretty soon another spoke: 'Will the gentleman from Worcester please pass the sait this way?' when one of the city wags taking the hint, turning ound to the black water said distinctly : Will the tleman from Africa please to pass the bread this COURT SCANDAL. - In Bavaria an extraordinary ecandal has arisen, Lola Montes, a Spanish danscuse, who appeared in London a year or two back, having turned the brain of the King, who has sought to create her a counters and to present her with one of the finest of the crown domains. The Ministry, by whom his folly was resisted, have been dismissed, but they carry with them the popular sympathics. Facts vs. Mr. Hudson.

The National Intelligencer lately contained a long lutionary attempt on the city of Mexico. He to the increased demand for our breadstuffs in Eu-

Farias is full of kindness for him, and vengeance upon the traitors. One passage amused us: "With reason there has been such a failure of crops in all parts of second session of the Twenty-ninth Taylor remarked at Saltillo three weeks since, 'I do Europe as during the past year; and hence the gene-Taylor remarked at Saltino inree weeks since, I do not provide the saltino in ral apprehension of famine, not only in Ireland, but not fear Santa Anna; there will be a revolution in ral apprehension of famine, not only in Ireland, but Mexico very soon, and he will be deposed." The attention of teachers and friends of Education in local Books. It is believed that they are, all things considered, better adapted for use in the schools and academies of the west than any other similar series extant. One of the best evidences of this is to be found in the fact of their immense popularity, (millions having been sold) and rapidly increasing sale.
